GOING OUT

Play with your food

Off the back of their sold-out show, Chambers of Flavour, theatrical foodie adventurers Gingerline are back bringing a touch of fantasy to London – with a great expedition to a secret location on The Victoria Line. The specifics are being kept under wraps, but diners can expect to be transported to an otherworldly realm where a daring five-course feast will blend fun and fine dining. Tickets are on sale now but they always fly off the shelves, so the sooner you book the better. From £60 to £75; *secret location*
